

Bandolier

Reader survey

Impact

If Bandolier and ImpAct remain fresh and relevant it is because a lot of time is spent finding out what our readers (paper and electronic) want us to examine. Sometimes we can do this – as this month with glucosamine. Sometimes we cannot, because there is no information. Even so, a note is made in our little black book just in case something swims into our ken. But we cannot talk to more than a small fraction of the many readers in the UK and around the world. So occasionally we invite readers to spend a few moments to tell us what they think and what they want.

In this survey we ask four questions. The first is an open question about specific topics you would like to see covered. The second is a set of boxes against topic areas we are developing in the Bandolier Internet site. We would like you to tick FIVE only – the ones that interest you most. That will help us with priority setting. The third box is for any work you have done, or know of, where people in the NHS have made the service better. We'd like to know about this for ImpAct, for which the criteria are that an improvement must be measurable, it must be affordable, and it must be transferable. Finally there is a box for you to tell us about anything else we can do to make Bandolier and ImpAct more helpful to you.
